

My project introduces my favorite football team, Chelsea FC. I separated the site into 4 parts: Home, Team(players' introduction), history of the team, and archive; an assortment of pictures from the team that I personally think is interesting to look at. I am focusing on ways to introduce the team to viewers who aren't familiar with football, and I would like to keep them engaged by including entertaining content.